DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election without traverse of group II in the reply filed on 21 December 2006 is acknowledged.
2. Claims 1, 7, and 9-33 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on 21 December 2006. Please note that the restriction requirement mistakenly listed claim 7 with group II, it should have been listed with non-elected group I, as it is dependent on claim 1. Any inconvenience is regretted.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 2, 6, 8 and 34 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Jackson et al, 5,643,061. Please refer to figures 2-4 and column 4, lines 1 through column 5, lines 9. Note that the gas supplied is inherently temperature controlled, in that if it is too hot, it contributes to the heat generated during the polishing process and will cause damage to the wafer. Note that '061 discloses that the pressures are unequal between the two chambers, and that when polishing a substantial amount of exposed metal, the retaining ring is subjected to greater pressure than the wafer holding chamber. Inherently, the examiner interprets that when a different type of wafer is polished, the retaining ring is subjected to less pressure than the wafer holding chamber.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

7. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Jackson et al, 5,643,061 in view of Jackson et al, 6,241,591. '061 does not disclose the retainer ring provided with a plurality of through holes in communication with the flow passage. '591, figure 2 and column 3, lines 35-45, teaches providing a retainer ring with through holes in communication with the flow passage. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to have provided '061 with the through holes of '591, to prevent trapped gas from changing the pressure of the wafer against the polishing pad.

Allowable Subject Matter

8. Claims 4 and 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. The prior art of record does not disclose or fairly teach a switching means to selectively supply a gas or liquid to the flow passage contiguous to the retaining ring, nor does the prior art of record disclose or fairly teach that the gas is a moistened gas.

Conclusion

9. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Other similar holding devices are cited of interest.
